PHE CONTRACTORS, INC. PEAK PERFORMANCE AUDIT FOR YOUR HEATING & COOLING SYSTEM

A PHE Contractors, Inc. Peak Performance Audit (PPA) is a seasonal tune-up and professional cleaning of your heating and/or air conditioning equipment. The agreement includes the cost of labor to perform the cleaning and checking of your equipment. This service will take place during normal business hours Monday-Friday by our trained professionals. This service does not include repairs (labor or parts) found to be required at the time of the tune-up and cleaning.

BENEFITS OF A PHE CONTRACTORS, INC. PEAK PERFORMANCE AUDIT

Convenience – No need to think about whether or not your furnace or air conditioner is ready for the season ahead. With the PHE Contractors, Inc. PPA, we will contact you to set up a time that works best for you. On the attached sheet, simply chose the day of the week and the best time of day that suits your schedule. Having your heating and cooling equipment professionally maintained may reduce the possibility of major, untimely repairs.

Peace of Mind – Knowing that your heating and cooling equipment are maintained annually gives you the peace of mind knowing the components are clean and ready for the rigors of the upcoming season. The PHE Contractors, Inc. PPA requires certain components to be checked and others to be cleaned. A professional cleaning prevents component damage from dirty or clogged filters and coils. Inspection may also detect problems that could lead to major component failure if not serviced regularly.

Extended Equipment Life – Heating and Air Conditioning equipment represents a significant investment for most homeowners. Life expectancy of this equipment can be extended by regular maintenance and cleaning. Equipment that is properly maintained will continue to perform over a longer period of time, postponing the necessity of investing in new equipment.

Maintain Equipment Efficiency – Heating and air conditioning equipment that is clean and free of clogged filters and coils operates at its peak efficiency. A PHE Contractors, Inc. PPA includes the cleaning of the condensing unit coil and checking of the indoor coil, ensuring the equipment operates at its maximum efficiency. You save money on utility bills by having clean equipment.

Discount on Emergency Service – A PHE Contractors, Inc. PPA allows you to receive a 20% discount on parts required to get your system back in operating condition.
